

The Mailbox Adventure Begins

FOUNDING FAMILY WELCOME CERTIFICATE

This certifies that

Young Reader's Name

has joined a correspondence across history, where every envelope may hold a story, a question, a mission, or a new mystery waiting to be answered.

Watch the mailbox. History is writing.

First pen pal: _____

Adventure start date: _____

PP

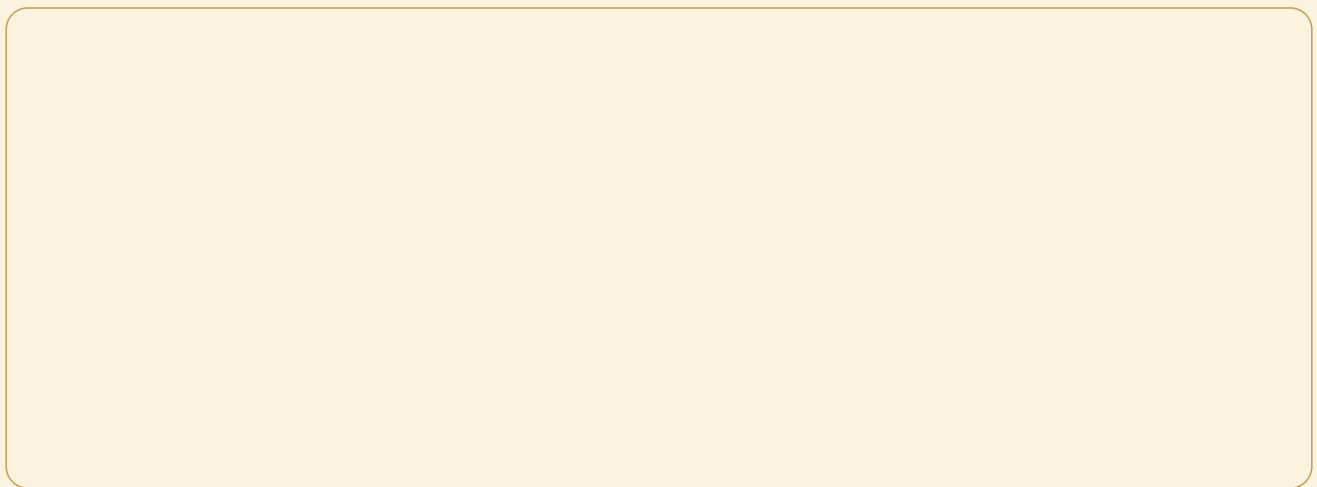

Write Back to Your Pen Pal

REPLY STATIONERY

Dear _____

_____ Date:

Draw a clue, invention, map, animal, or idea for your pen pal:

From, _____

My Pen Pal Passport

COLLECT EVERY ADVENTURE

Explorer: _____

Started: _____

ADVENTURE 1

Pen pal: _____

Place or time: _____

Best discovery: _____

ADVENTURE 2

Pen pal: _____

Place or time: _____

Best discovery: _____

ADVENTURE 3

Pen pal: _____

Place or time: _____

Best discovery: _____

ADVENTURE 4

Pen pal: _____

Place or time: _____

Best discovery: _____

ADVENTURE 5

Pen pal: _____

Place or time: _____

Best discovery: _____

ADVENTURE 6

Pen pal: _____

Place or time: _____

Best discovery: _____

Grown-Up Quick Start

KEEP THE CORRESPONDENCE MOVING

1. Let the letter belong to them

Read it together or let them open it independently. There is no perfect way to respond: a note, question, drawing, map, or invention sketch can all continue the adventure.

2. Make replying easy

Use the stationery in this kit or any paper they enjoy. Follow the adult reply instructions included with the mailed letter. Children never need an online account.

3. Give them a starting prompt

Try: What surprised you? What would you ask your pen pal? What would you show them from your world? What should they investigate next?

4. Share only what the story needs

Use a first name or nickname, age, interests, and the child's own questions or drawings. Do not share school names, schedules, medical details, passwords, or other sensitive information.

What membership includes

One new personalized history adventure every paid month, plus personalized replies when the reader writes back - up to four outgoing letters or postcards per month. U.S. postage is included.

The more they write, the more the story grows.